Our old friend E. A. Saxe dropped in on us Thursday, looking as young and spry as he did ten years ago. He is a cousin of J. G. Saxe, the deceased poet.

The latter, he says, was the laziest man he ever knew, "the never would have done enough to break the Sabbath, if it had been Sunday all the year round." E. A. Saxe is at present carrying mail and passengers between the Vekol and Casa Grande. Mining is being vigorously prosecuted at Vekol, which is one of the most prosperous camps in Arizona.

The Vekol mine from which the camp takes its name, continues its large output of bullion, and other mines in this district look very promising. Messrs. Hinds and Childs' claim shows large bodies of rich ore.—Silver Belt.

A Captain's Fortunate Discovery

Capt. Coleman, schr. Weymouth, plying Atlantic City and N. Y., had been troubled with a cough so he was unable to sleep, and was induced to try Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption.

It not only gave him instant relief, but allayed the extreme soreness in his breast. His children were similarly affected and a single dose had the same happy effect.

Dr. King's New Discovery is now a standard remedy in the Coleman household and on the schooner. Free Trial Bottles of this Standard Remedy at J. D. Rittenhouse's.

Pinal and Silver King have been well represented in Florence this week. A special venire for jurors was the occasion of the visit of many, while others were witnesses in cases before the court.

Among them were Messrs. J. C. Woolfson, George Dimmit, Wm. Steffy, Charles Ewing, A. Price, J. E. Arthur, P. F. Dickinson, L. K. Dris, C. Smith, C. Drally, F. G. Howser, J. D. Brandenburg, Jacob Suter, C. W. Whitlow, Dan Danford and Wm. Mason and wife, of Pinal; Messrs. George Simpson, John Lagomareino, Richard Dunn, John Reed, W. P. Shanly, P. Stillman, H. Pearce, W. H. Franklin, T. E. Johnson, M. McVeigh, Jno. Woods and Whitford of Silver King.

There is at the present time in the Superior Court of San Francisco a suit against an insurance company with which the people of Pinal county are somewhat familiar. It is the suit before Judge Wilson of George A. Case, as assignee, against the Sun Insurance Company. The action is in two counts. In one, Case seeks to recover $1,000 on a policy, insuring Alexander L. Pam on a stock of merchandise in a dirt-roof adobe building, in Riverside, Pinal County, Arizona, which was destroyed by fire on the 15th of September, 1884; and the other, $1,063.60, a judgment rendered in a district court of Arizona in a suit of the above policy. The company contests the policy on the ground that when Pam made his application to be insured he overvalued his stock by $800 and that instead of sustaining a total loss of $5,000 as claimed, it was not more than $800. The judgment is disputed on the ground that the man who was served with the process in Arizona was not then, or has not been since, the agent of the company, and could not, therefore, represent it.

Mr. G. O. Eaton is busily at work at his brickyard near Brady's mill, putting up a kiln of 125,000 ft. of brick. He will then turn a much larger kiln. He is making an excellent quality of brick, almost equal to pressed brick. A competent brick mason will arrive here in a week or two from the east to take charge of the construction of Mr. J. D. Rittenhouse's new brick residence in the Western Addition. As the kiln is likely to be plenty of work in that line the owner will probably take up his permanent residence here.

A Pantano dispatch to the associated Press states that the detective, Le Harris and under Sheriff Shillbell of Tucson, have captured three of the recent train robbers and taken them to the Tucson jail. The capture is said to have taken place last Saturday, but as no mention has been made of the affair by the local press it is considered in the light of a canard. The Pantano correspondent is evidently striving to emulate the Benson liar.

The special venire for trial jurors raided the Vekol camp and brought thirteen men to Florence. They started from camp on Wednesday morning and arrived in Florence Thursday noon. Mr. J. A. Lavhorn's team having brought the entire distance. Their names are: Messrs. J. D. Fraser, W. W. Walker, John Hinds, C. M. Sears, John Schultz, John Cummings, John Cameron, Charles Eastman, Lew Gibson, B. B. De Nore, John Schuer, J. A. Jones and Joe Walker.

Custom house officials last week seized about 200 head of cattle that were driven from Sonora to the West Huachuca, and arrested the owners of the cattle—Messrs. Colin Cameron, Sydney Thomas, James Sutherland, H. K. Hilderbrand and Mr. Corn—for an alleged attempt to evade payment of duty. The cattle seized belonged to stockmen residing this side of the Sonora line, and were gathered as stray, the round-up in Sonora and were being driven to the range of the respective owners. The gentlemen arrested were taken before the Court Commissioner at Tombstone, and after an examination were discharged. The seizure of these cattle and arrest of their owners was regarded in no light other than an outrage. The cattle of Arizona stockmen are not the same as those of the United States custom officials to seize such cattle when they are being returned to their rightful ranges in an act so unjust and unequal for that we are surprised it was ever attempted. We do not believe we will be called on to chronicle a similar occurrence.—Wilcox Stockman.

Arizona has an abundance of agricultural land, scores of undeveloped and undiscovered mines, wide stock ranges yet unclaimed, and a climate that challenges the finest and most ambitious in the world. And these are only a few of the many inducements offered to those seeking new homes.—Star.

J. D. Rittenhouse received this week the most complete stock of Dry Goods ever brought to Florence, consisting of bleached and unbleached Domestic, Dress Goods, Silks, Satins, Notions, &c., &c. He selected each article himself and can guarantee the latest styles and bottom prices.

Removal to the Verde.

Journal-Miner.
It has been learned from good authority that the military authorities at Whipple have been telegraphed to hold themselves in readiness to move the Apache-Mohaves and Tonto-Apaches, to the number of about 1,200, from the San Carlos reservation to the Fort Verde military reservation. This is a matter of general discussion on the streets, and it is denounced as an outrage to remove these outcasts into the midst of a settled community like that of the Verde valley. The settlers of the valley are, almost to a man, opposed to the removal and settling of this gang of outcasts in their midst. The only ones in favor of it are about a half dozen ranchers in the immediate vicinity of the Fort, who seem to think they can dispose of their surplus produce to the Government, for the support of the soldiers at Camp Verde, knowing that an additional force will have to be maintained there, in the event of the removal of the Indians. It will now be in order for the settlers to arm themselves and make a frightful example of the very first of these red demons found running at large off the reservation.

Liquid Grafting Wax.

Rural Press.
The so-called "French Mastic," so long known as "Lefort's Liquid Grafting Wax," is made by melting one pound of common rosin over a gentle fire and stirring in one of beef tallow. Take from the fire, and when it has partially cooled, mix in eight ounces of alcohol. If this cools off rapidly, it must again be placed over the fire, but great care must be used to keep the alcohol from taking fire. When well incorporated and cooled, put it in tin cases or glass bottles and keep well covered or corked. It is stated that this, until quite lately, was kept a secret, while the mastic was imported from France.

Married.

On last evening at 8:30 o'clock Mr. Wm. E. Guild of Florence and Miss Emma J. Monk of Tucson were united in marriage by Rev. U. Gregory, D. D., at the residence of the officiating clergyman. The wedding was a quiet affair, but a few select friends of the bride being present. The bridegroom is one of the most esteemed and influential citizens in our neighboring town of Florence, while Miss Monk is one of our most popular and respected young ladies. The bride was tastefully attired in a costume of white satin with orange blossoms, a costume marvelously becoming to the bride and appropriate to the occasion.

There were present: Mr. and Mrs. Gregory, Mr. and Mrs. E. N. Fish, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Shillbell, Mrs. O. Bucklaw, Mrs. Camblos, Miss Julia Foris, Miss Helen Beck, Miss Lizzie Borton, Judge Wm. Porter, Rev. M. M. Hitchcock, Mr. Arthur Burton, Mr. M. S. Snyder and Mr. H. B. Dodge, all of whom, while expressing their deep regret at the departure of the bride, congratulated the groom on winning the hand of one so eminently qualified to adorn his home.

After the ceremony, at 10:45 p. m., the bride and groom took leave by train for Florence, their future place of residence. The congratulations and good wishes of all their friends go with them to their home.—Star, Oct. 16.

Renews Her Youth.

Mrs. Phoebe Chesley, Peterson, Clay Co., Iowa, tells the following remarkable story, the truth of which is vouched for by the residents of the town: "I am 73 years old, have been troubled with kidney complaint and lameness for many years; could not dress myself without help. Now I am free from all pain and soreness, and am able to do all my own housework. I owe my thanks to Electric Bitters for having renewed my youth, and removed completely all disease and pain." The rapid increase of the sale of public lands in the Tucson land office is a key to the true situation in Arizona. Known but a few short years ago as a mining and stock growing region only, this territory is fast developing the fact that its agricultural possibilities are unsurpassed. In the next decade, all the valley lands between the mouth of the Verde and that of the Gila will be transformed into one vast garden, and farming will become the chief industry of our people, who will of course be materially assisted by the mining operations throughout the territory, the stock interests and the lumber trade. Such natural resources must ultimately make the infant territory one of the richest in the United States.—Arizona.

Gleason, the horse-tamer, says that the word "Whoa" should never be spoken to a horse unless it is desired that he stop still. A lad near Albany, N. Y., knew what sound advice this is. He was on a moving machine and fell in front of the knives. As he fell he shouted "Whoa" to his horses and they stopped. The cutting-knife of the machine was resting on top of the boy's foot when he was taken up. Had the horses taken a single step more, the lad's foot would have been mangled.

A Prescott dispatch says: The military authorities have been told to be in readiness to move to Fort Verde where the Apache-Mohave Indians will be removed. The majority of the citizens violently oppose the removal and the action is openly denounced by the people. They are discussing on the streets the fact that it lowers the value of land to place ten or fifteen hundred Indians on the reservation. Many citizens of the Verde valley were interviewed and almost all express opposition to the change.

When the excitement wears off in California the purchasers of real estate will wonder how they came to lose their minds and overlooked the fact that they could purchase ten times better land in Arizona at five per cent of the price they were paying in California, and having a much superior climate thrown in.—Star.

Wretched Indeed.
Are those whom a confirmed tendency to biliousness subject to the various and changeable symptoms indicative of liver complaint, nausea, sick headache, constipation, furred tongue, and unpleasant breath, a dull or sharp pain in the neighborhood of the affected organ, impurity of the blood and loss of appetite signalize it as one of the most distressing, as it is one of the most common of maladies. There is however a benign specific for the disease and all its manifestations. It is the concurrent testimony of the public and the medical profession, that Hostetter's stomach bitters is a medicine which achieves results speedily felt, thorough and benign. Besides rectifying liver disorder, it invigorates the feeble, conquers kidney and bladder complaints, and hastens the convalescence of those recovering from enfeebling disease. Moreover, it is the grand specific for fever and ague.

The Earnest Man.
The man not in earnest seldom accomplishes much in this world. Bulwer once said: "Nothing is so contagious as enthusiasm; it is the allegory of the tale of Orpheus; it moves stones, it chains brutes. Enthusiasm is the genius of sincerity, and truth accomplishes no victories without it."

Interesting Signaling Apparatus.
A highly interesting signaling apparatus has just been examined at the Station Montparnasse, Paris. On opening the door of a compartment a bell box in the guard's van indicates the number of the carriage, of the compartment, and of the side the door was opened. When the train stops all doors instantly open on the side the passengers have to alight; should any door on the opposite side be opened it would be signaled by the bell ringing. In case of danger, communication can be made without opening the door by simply pressing on a knob, with the same effect.—Frank Leslie's.
